

Where is Your Hair?

In your comb? Why so? Is not the head much better place for it? Better keep what is left where it belongs! Ayer's Hair Vigor, new improved formula, quickly stops falling hair. There is not a particle of doubt about it. We speak very positively about this, for we know.

Does not change the color of the hair.

Indeed, the one great leading feature of our new Hair Vigor may well be said to be that it stops falling hair. Then it goes one step further—it aids nature in restoring the hair and scalp to a healthy condition. Ask for "the new kind."

Two-cent Passenger Rate.

The State Farmers' Institute and Industrial Convention under the auspices of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, will be held September 4, 5 and 6. Various features of farm life and industry are on the programme as announced by the faculty, and will discussed by members of the faculty and directors of the several experiment stations and by distinguished agriculturists and professors of other States, as well as a strong array of writers and speakers from the several sections of Mississippi. Among these are Dr. J. C. Gathings of our own county of Monroe and Mr. B. H. Strong of Clay, on the subject of the popular and most profitable crop, "Alfalfa." The college and experiment station will make a fine exhibit of pure bred stock.

This will be probably the most interesting Institute of the many already held at the college and should be attended by everybody who can possibly make it convenient to be present. Excursion rates from every point in Mississippi.

Those who have stomach trouble, no matter how slight, should give every possible help to the digestive system by carrying the people, and nearly all the costs of operation have grown. Nor would it be safe to count on the increased business continuing permanently. When a new and a cheaper rate is announced it is natural that people should wish to take advantage of it; but when the novelty of it wears off traffic is likely to return to nearly its old figures. Business traffic will remain unchanged; and while travel for pleasure will undoubtedly be increased there is no reason to believe that the increase will be such as to meet all the heavier expenses incurred. It cannot be said, therefore, that the business reported from Missouri sets at rest the question of a reasonable character of the two-cent rate. The matter will have to be tested longer and more thoroughly, and not for Missouri alone, but for every State in which the reduced rate is tried, for what may be possible in one is not possible in another.—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Remedy for Diarrhoea, Never Known to Fail.

It is with pleasure that I give this unsolicited testimonial. About a year ago when I had a severe case of measles I got caught out in a hard rain and the measles settled in my stomach and bowels. I had an awful time and had it not been for the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I could not have possibly lived but a few hours longer, but thanks to this remedy I am now strong and well. I have written the above through simple gratitude and I shall always speak a good word for this remedy.—Sam H. Gwin, Concord, Ga. For sale by all medicine dealers.

Men Past Sixty in Danger.

More than half of mankind over 60 years of age suffer from kidney and bladder and disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr. Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo., says: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old."

Liquor Prohibition in the South.

(New Orleans Picayune.)

The astonishing success that has attended the movement against the sale of intoxicating liquors in the Southern States in the past few years attracted but little attention until the enactment recently by the legislature of Georgia of a prohibition law more radical than any other in existence in the United States.

Not only does the Georgia law, which goes into operation on Jan. 1, 1908, close every saloon in the State, but it does not allow any liquor to be sold by anybody, even a druggist, for any purpose whatever. People who need stimulants for medical purposes may get pure alcohol on a physician's prescription. Even this may not be furnished by the druggist except on the day the prescription is dated, nor in quantities exceeding a pint. Most stringent regulations are provided for preventing violations of the law. The burden of proof that alcohol is wanted for an innocent purpose is thrown upon the druggist.

When the first reports went out of the struggle over the Georgia prohibition bill it was not supposed that the champions of prohibition could win success, but light was let in on the situation by the announcement that recently only fifteen counties in Georgia have been "wet," the other 135 counties having voted themselves dry under the old local option law, which contains "the county feature." Since the subject has claimed attention all over the country, a number of writers have brought out the interesting and instructive facts concerning the steady and rapid progress of prohibition in the South, and the Georgia law is now understood to be not an isolated phenomenon but a somewhat advanced manifestation of a general and deep public sentiment.

As an evidence of what was the actual situation in other States of the South, it may be mentioned that in Kentucky all but four of the counties are dry; Tennessee has abolished the saloon everywhere except in the cities of Memphis, Nashville and Chattanooga, while Texas has ninety dry counties. The Carolinas and other Southern States tell similar stories, and the prospect is that before long the whole South, with the exception of the large cities and industrial centers, will be prohibition territory. Georgia has simply extended to her cities the rule that has prevailed in her villages and small towns, and her action is, therefore, not to be regarded as revolutionary.

This is a wonderful change, but it is one to which the people have been driven by the increase of crime throughout their States. A prompt, firm and decisive repression of crime by the severe and quick punishment of criminals should have been the proper resort, but the growing indisposition to punish offenders has led the way to a movement to prevent crime by banishing from the country the strong liquors to the use of which so much crime and misery are attributed.

The Pitycane has always argued in favor of the prompt, swift and severe punishment of all perpetrators of serious crimes, and it has urged the strictest regulation of the liquor traffic instead of its suppression. The arrogant and defiant bearing of the liquor dealers, when a proper system of regulation was proposed, has brought the most severe measures down upon them in other Southern States, and will do so in this. The people of the South in the serious work before them of dealing with a large negro population, so easily brutalized by drink, are determined to take what they believe is the easiest way in which to protect themselves and the dependent negroes, and the result will be that prohibition will be the rule in the South.

It is commonly said that prohibition does not prohibit, but the fact is that "blind tigers" are but a poor substitute for the saloons that should and would have been regulated by wise and reasonable laws if those who control the business had been sane and reasonable enough to accept the situation that was offered to them. They defied authority and they will finally have to submit to its most stringent decrees.

Eczema.

For the good of those suffering with eczema, or other such trouble, I wish to say, my wife had something of it kind and after using the doctor's remedies for some time concluded to try Chamberlain's Salve, and it proved to be better than anything she had tried. For sale by all medicine dealers.

The New York Sun thinks the resentment of John Sharp Williams over his very narrow victory in the cerebral excitement which had its source and rise in the natural chagrin of a man who expected to run like a champion in the senate primaries and found himself almost headed in the home stretch by a dark horse.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

THE OPPORTUNITY of a LIFE TIME

95,000 acres in the "Garden Spot of the World," is now being opened up to the American People.

DR. CHARLES F. SIMMONS'

ATASCOSA COUNTY (TEXAS) RANCH NOW ON THE MARKET.

OPPORTUNITIES LIKE THIS SELDOM OCCUR.

$210, payable $10 per month, without interest, buys two lots for a home or business in town and a farm of from a 10-acre truck farm to a 640-acre farm in balmy South Texas.

President Roosevelt said: "TEXAS IS THE GARDEN SPOT OF THE WORLD."

Investigation will show that this 95,000-acre ranch comprises one of the finest bodies of Agricultural and Truck Farming land in the entire State, commencing about 30 miles south of San Antonio, and about two miles south of Pleasanton (the county seat of Atascosa county) and extending through Atascosa and a part of McMullen counties, to within 10 miles of the Gulf of Mexico. Live Oak County Ranch, which in four months last year sold at $100.00 per acre, is now offered without interest on deferred payments, which gives the purchaser more than 100% of a chance to secure a good farm and town lot for his home in town. I will donate and turn over to three hundred Trustees $250,000.00 from the proceeds of the sale of this property to the purchasers, as a bonus to the first railway built through this property on the line which I shall designate.

This property is located on that middle plain between East Texas, where it rains too much, and the arid section of West Texas, where it does not rain enough.

Its close proximity to San Antonio, the largest city in the State, with a claimed population of over 100,000, enhances its value as a market for Agricultural and Truck Farm products far beyond the value of similar land not so favorably located.

Level to slightly rolling. Large, broad, rich valleys, encircled by elevations suitable for homes; 90 per cent fine farming land, balance pasture land.

FORESTRY.

Ash, Elm, Gum, Hackberry, Live Oak, Mesquite, Pecan, abundant, and, fencing and woods.

SOIL.

About 60 per cent rich, dark sandy loam, balmy, productive and red soil sandy loam, usually preferred by local farmers, and each with all averaging from two to four feet deep, with clay subsoil, which holds water.

CLIMATE.

Mild, balmy, healthy, practically free from malaria, few frosts, no snow, no hard freezes, continuous sea breeze, moderates extremes of heat and cold, producing warm winters and cool summers. Average temperature about 65 degrees.

RAINFALL.

From the Government records, it is to be seen that the rainfall on this property has been fully 35 inches per year, which is more than some of the old States have had, and is plentiful for ordinary crops properly cultivated, and for grapes, peaches, etc.

IMPROVEMENTS AND TRUCK FARMING.

This property is fenced and cross fenced in many large and small pastures, with four barbed wire, with posts about 12 feet apart. Also a number of fine houses, Artesian Wells, crystal streams free for miles and miles down the valleys, whose broad rich valleys, available from these continuously flowing streams, make it the ideal place for the Marketing Gardener who desires to raise food for his family and to make a handsome profit on the same ground every year.

SEASONS NEVER END.

This land is adapted to profitable culture of Beans, Cabbages, Celery, Cucumbers, Eggplants, Tomatoes, Berries, Carrots, Onions, Radishes, Squash, Strawberries, Cauliflower, Cava, Orger, Peas, Peas, Potatoes, Turnips, Asparagus, Cantaloupes, Grapes, Irish Potatoes, Olives, Sweet Potatoes, Bananas, Dates, English Walnuts, Figs, Melons, Peaches, Apples, Pears, etc.

Page 12 of the book entitled "Beautiful San Antonio," officially issued by the Business Men's Club of San Antonio, dated May 1906, says:

"It is really wonderful by all those who know anything about Texas that the most prolific agricultural section is that which recognizes San Antonio as its logical center, particularly that portion directly south of San Antonio, with the Gulf of Mexico bordering on the southeast and the Rio Grande bordering on the south and west."

"Within the last four or five years, in the territory named, special attention has been given to growing vegetables, which maturing at a time when they secure the maximum prices on Northern markets, which markets they virtually invade without a competitor. The profit in growing vegetables in this territory will be seen by an examination of the following figures secured from reliable sources, showing

NET EARNINGS PER ACRE.

"Watermelons from $75 to $200.00.
"Cantaloupes from $75.00 to $125.00.
